

Eisenhower May Be Called To Command in Atlantic

Hasn't Denied He'll Accept Offer to Run in '52 for President

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—The possibility that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower may be called to command the North Atlantic defense forces east some new doubt today about his political future.

Eisenhower arrived last night for scheduled talks today with President Truman and Secretary of the Army P. M. A. in Washington. Many in Washington think these may be preliminary to the general's selection to head the Western European military defense setup.

The tacit understanding has been that if Eisenhower accepts such an assignment, he will agree to do his uniform again for only a year to get the defense forces organized. That could leave the way open for a return to civilian pursuits, such as his presidency of Columbia University, in the presidential-picking year of 1952.

But Eisenhower told reporters in Charleston, W. Va., yesterday that he, as a soldier, "will do as I am told to do."

Eisenhower has made several disavowals of his suggested candidacy but nowhere has he said flatly that he would not accept a major party nomination in 1952 if it were offered to him.

Dwight Refuse Dewey

Recently when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York said that if he is elected he will try to swing the New York state delegation to Eisenhower at the next Republican national convention, the general politely refrained from slamming the door on such a possibility. He reiterated that his present post gives him ample opportunity for public service but he didn't ask the governor not to back him at the convention.

Eisenhower has made it plain in the past that he doesn't think an active military man ought to become a candidate for president. With that in mind, his friends generally believe he would quash any nomination move if he takes the North Atlantic post and finds his job there still unfinished in 1952.

Can Be Approached

But these same friends speculate that if the early months of that year finds Eisenhower busy in civilian life he can be approached about running for president. Eisenhower is now in the development of a year as North Atlantic commander couldn't do Eisenhower any political harm. He would be continually in the public eye, dealing with world affairs. He wouldn't have to answer any domestic political questions. The build up for a nomination draft could be almost automatic.

Struck Parked Truck

Harriett Kramer, 27, Poughkeepsie, wife of Rabbi Marcus Kramer was injured Friday night when a truck struck the rear of a parked car at Milton. Mrs. Kramer sustained contusions of the car, was not injured. The accident happened at 7:30 p. m. on Route 9W where an International dump truck operated by Robert Conn, 56, Marlborough had run out of gas. Police at Highland reported Conn was driving south when his truck stopped. The Kramer car, also traveling south, struck the truck in the rear.

Other fires reported included a fire in the woods off Hooker street at 5:27 p. m. Coating Gas Mains By Pressure System

For the first time, a pressure system is being used to give this city's gas mains their interior coating of "Corbocel," a chemical compound to prevent leaks.

Although the use of "Corbocel" was originated by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation in 1933, it was introduced into the mains by a gravity system in former years, and caused little public notice.

This year the Consolidated Gas and Service Company of Chicago, Ill., has been engaged to do the job with its latest pressure equipment.

About every 300 feet along the pavement above a main, this company's employees drill a small hole by means of special equipment. Through the hole they introduce a high pressure sprayer, which coats the inside of the main for about 150 feet on either side of the hole.

Berliners Hear Freedom Bell's Peal

This is part of crowd of nearly 500,000 Berliners who gathered in the square in front of the city hall to hear the Freedom Bell ring out on United Nations Day. A huge American flag hangs from the tower of the city hall in which the bell is located. The ten-ton bronze bell, cast in England for the Communist-surrounded West Berlin, was made possible by U. S. public subscription under sponsorship of the "Crusade for Freedom."

Asks Realistic View In Atlantic Problem

Phone Strike Is Due November 9

Dispute to Get Support of 300,000 Strong in CWA Union

New York, Oct. 28 (AP)—A long-smoldering wage dispute in the huge Bell Telephone System broke out anew last night with the threat of a coast-to-coast telephone strike Nov. 9.

Only 18,685 equipment workers were involved directly, but they have the full backing of their union, the CIO Communications Workers of America, which pledged itself to honor the strikers' picket lines.

The CWA represents most of Bell's 300,000 employees. The main clash is between the big union's Division 6, with 10,000 workers, and the Western Electric Co., the manufacturing and installing subsidiary of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., parent Bell Corporation.

Some 6,000 distributing workers in 28 major cities also are involved, as well as 685 manufacturing employees in a plant at Haverhill, Mass.

Marshall Urges Against Letting Communism Spread

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall appealed today to the defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) to be "realistic in the appreciation of the present critical situation" as they shape the combined force for defense against communism.

"We must face facts without prejudice," Marshall said in an address prepared for the opening of the NATO Defense Committee session, a meeting at which the French refusal to accept a proposal for formation of West German Army units as part of the integrated force is due for a thorough going over.

However, Marshall made no direct reference to that problem in the text of his formal welcoming address.

He offered some sober words of warning about what can happen if the North Atlantic nations let down their efforts to build strong defenses against communism.

"We must not sink into complacency or over-confidence, for (Continued on Page 10, Col. 5)

Sees Red China Getting UN Seat

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen suggested last night that the State Department had encouraged the British to recognize Red China and had told them that the United States soon would follow suit.

Stassen said it would be a tragic blunder if Mr. Truman should give Mao Tse-tung, the Chinese Red leader, "a back stage blessing." He had expressed the belief in a speech Wednesday that the administration plans after the election to encourage the United Nations to give the Communist Chinese government a permanent veto seat now held by Nationalist China.

News Would Wager $10,000 Poll Right Pecora Is Behind

New York, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Daily News is willing to wager Democratic-Liberal candidate Ferdinand Pecora $10,000 that its mayoral poll is accurate—but Pecora says he is not a betting man.

The newspaper's poll shows Pecora far behind his independent opponent, Acting Mayor Vincent Impellitteri.

In an editorial today, the newspaper challenged Pecora's claim that three private polls taken by his backers differ with that of the News.

Backing its own 22-year-old poll, the News said it would give $10,000 to any charity named by Pecora if any of his polls—indicating victory for Pecora—were correct. However, if Pecora lost, he would donate $10,000 to a number of charities.

"We're ready and eager to put up," said the News. "Will Judge Pecora do likewise or shut up?"

Pecora turned down the bet, saying his remarks about the News polls related only to its first few days of operation.

"I can't hope to compete financially with the Daily News," said Pecora. "Besides, I have never been a betting man. Betting never proved anything or helped anybody."

To date, the News' straw vote of 6,100 persons gives Impellitteri 54.8 per cent of the vote and Pecora 29.5. Republican Edward Corsi is credited with 12 per cent. Paul Ross, American Labor Party candidate, has 3.7 per cent.

The News, supporting Impellitteri, editorially, says of its election polls:

"They are never rigged, never dishonest, never angled to favor any candidate."

The newspaper said its polls have proved right 14 times and wrong only twice. Once, when its figures were extremely close, the News declined to base a prediction on them.

Detective Held

New York, Oct. 28 (AP)—While trying to halt a Harlem night club brawl early today, a private detective's gun went off, killing one man and wounding another. The detective, John Dickerson, 35, employed as bouncer at the night club, was booked on a technical charge of homicide. He said seven or eight club patrons began fighting, and when he intervened, one of them tried to grab his gun, which discharged accidentally in the struggle. The dead was Allen Thomas Kupski, 23, of Manhattan. Thomas Rubino, 17, was wounded in the shoulder.

Sees Self on TV

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 28 (AP)—While watching a television newsreel, Ralph R. Boatman saw for the first time a film in which he appeared in 32 years ago. The movie showed him sending semaphore signals on New Year's Eve, 1918, to a troop transport grounded off Fire Island, near Long Island.

Resigns From Bench

New York, Oct. 28 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora, Democratic-Liberal candidate for mayor, submitted his resignation from the bench to the secretary of state yesterday. The State Constitution requires a judge to resign if he is running for another office.

Dewey Leadership Has Done Much for Children of State

Miss Constance Eberhardt, confidential law assistant to Governor Thomas E. Dewey and the first woman to serve on the governor's staff, was a speaker at the October meeting of the Ulster County Republican Women's Club held this week at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Mrs. Oscar V. Newkirk, president, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. H. M. Cameron, first vice-president, and chairman of the card party held at Fort Ewen on October 18, announced $237.80 had been realized for the club treasury.

Mrs. Parker Brimmer introduced the guest speaker and Miss Eberhardt spoke on many of the high lights of the administration. New York state under the leadership of Governor Dewey has done much for the children. Special service,

Dewey Asks Voters Judge Who's Giving Truth in Campaign

Says Facts Refute Charges State Fund Vanishes; Accuses Foes With 'Mud Curtain'

En Route With Dewey, Oct. 28 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey called on the people of New York state today to judge "who is telling the truth in this campaign."

He told newspapermen, before starting on a four-county tour from Rochester to Buffalo, that facts refuted Democratic charges that the state postwar fund had vanished.

He said $78,300,000 of the $873,000,000 fund had been spent on projects in the four counties he is visiting today—Orleans, Niagara, Monroe and Erie. He scheduled addresses in Brockport, Medina, Lockport and Niagara Falls.

"Men must be judged by the truth of what they say," declared the Republican candidate for reelection.

"Did the money vanish or do these agents of Flynn and Costello just wish it vanished? Did somebody steal the money or has it gone to serve the people?"

Accuses Rivals

His references were to Edward J. Flynn, whom Dewey calls the "Democratic boss," and to Frank Costello, whom he has termed the "king of the underworld."

Dewey, in a speech last night in Rochester, accused his Democratic rivals of copying Soviet tactics and erecting a "mud curtain" of abuse to screen his administration's accomplishments from the people.

Accusing the Democratic candidates of "knowing nothing of state government and caring less," he said their sole campaign has been one of abuse, falsehood and vilification.

He listed schools, roads, hospitals and other projects built under his administration and said his Democratic opponents knew so little about the state they would not recognize a mental hospital if it were in one.

Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, spoke on the same platform with Dewey yesterday in Batavia and Rochester.

Dewey said he was "proud to be on the same ticket" with Hanley. Hanley said he withdrew from own candidacy for the governorship in favor of Dewey and was campaigning for the Senate instead strictly on his own decision.

Hanley Flays Foes

He said he came to the decision because he felt Dewey, with his experience as governor, was best equipped to guide the state in a time of international crisis.

Hanley said at Batavia that if the Democrats were elected there would be "the damndest wreck you ever saw in this state."

"That isn't profanity—that's just Presbyterian emphasis," said Hanley, a former minister.

Most Would Rather Not Serve Than Go to Polls for Office

Most of the members of this city's present Board of Education would rather not serve on that board if it meant going through an election campaign, a survey disclosed today.

With the voters scheduled to determine on November 7 whether the board members will continue to be appointed or will be elected, a question being asked frequently is whether qualified persons would be as willing to have their names placed on a ballot as they are to accept appointments.

The Freeman last night and this morning contacted seven of the nine members of the present education board and asked whether they would be willing to go on the ballot as candidates for the unpaid position as board member.

One member said he would not. Another member said he does not "believe" he would. Four others indicated would "rather not," and probably would not, allow their names to go on a ballot, but they left the way open for the possibility of being prevailed upon to do so if it were necessary for the "good of the school system."

Of these four, at least one made it clear he "wouldn't go around electioneering for the job" even if his name were on the ballot. The other board member contacted preferred not to comment either way at the present time.

The question was meant to determine the question of election vs. appointment on its own merits. Several members pointed out that they believe one five-year term is sufficient and they would not accept either election or appointment for a second term. In such cases the question was put in this way: "The fact that you are now on the board shows that you did accept appointment. If, instead of being appointed, you had been asked to run for election to the board, would you have accepted?"

None of the answers, therefore, constitute a definite commitment on the part of anyone to serve after his present term expires. Following are excerpts from the answers and comments of the members:

Robert Herzog, president: "I do not know I certainly wouldn't want to. I would not run for any other office. I wouldn't go around electioneering for the job." Herzog said he thought the present appointive system succeeded in keeping the board above politics. (Continued on Page 10, Col. 5)

Bodies of 30 U. S. Soldiers Are Found In Bombed Train

Nine Burned Corpses Are Among Dead, but No Evidence of Torture Shown

With U. S. 1st Corps, North Korea, Oct. 28 (AP)—The bodies of 30 Americans—nine of them badly burned—have been discovered near Kulan, 30 miles northeast of Anju.

The First Corps Judge Advocate said today the Americans were found October 22nd in a train which had been attacked by American planes and shot at.

It could not be determined without further medical examinations whether the men had been killed by the air attack. No dead North Koreans were found.

Two American prisoners were found beside the burning railroad train.

Their names were not immediately available. Information indicated that nine bodies had been burned as a result of the air strike after the Americans had been killed earlier by their fleeing North Korean captors.

Twenty-nine bodies were found by Master Sgt. Morgan L. Cochran (home town not given). The 30th body was found later by investigators.

Sergeant Makes Report

Cochran filed today a report on his discovery. While on a reconnaissance mission Sunday, he was killed by four North Korean soldiers about four miles east of Kulan. The ROK troops said they had found two Americans.

Cochran followed the South Koreans to a nearby hut where he found two exhausted GIs. The South Koreans then said they knew where there were "many, many" dead Americans.

They led him to the railroad where he found 29 bodies laid out on mats beside a still burning train.

Nine burned bodies were in a row beside the tracks. Twenty others which had been shot were nearby.

Cochran buried the bodies in three common graves. He took the two surviving Americans to the rear, where they were given medical treatment and evacuated.

Cochran said the dead Americans had not been found and that he saw no signs of torture or mutilation.

American and British Troops Are Expected to Reach Frontier in Week's Time 60,000 Battle

Allied Aim Is to Sweep to Border in Blow at Reorganizing

By The Associated Press

Seoul, Oct. 28 (AP)—United Nations troops today with renewed hope to stem the allied advance toward the Manchurian border.

And, like the parts of a fully equipped dragon, the United Nations troops far behind the line of advance. A company of U. S. Marines was cut to pieces in an ambush near Wonsan.

Nevertheless, a high U. S. Eighth Army source said American and British troops were expected to reach the Manchurian frontier within a week. They are 45 to 50 miles to the south.

A South Korean battalion still holding its position on the border. It reached the Yalu river in northwest Korea Thursday but later had been reported as withdrawing because its supply lines were cut by the Reds to the point.

Two Chinese Communist prisoners identified their units as the Chinese Red Army new fighting troops. They were taken from a North Korean, they were questioned in the presence of AP correspondents Tom Lambert and Ben Price.

Say 60,000 Fighting

Other Chinese prisoners had estimated 30,000 to 60,000 Chinese Communist soldiers fighting beside the North Korean remnants. Intelligence officers, at the time, agreed—secretly.

But the two prisoners seen by Lambert and Price were specific. They identified their units as the 4th Special Unit and the 5th Battalion of the Eighth Chinese Red Army.

A U. S. Eighth Army source said he had been told that the Reds were clearing all Korea of Communist resistance. He said there was an important tactical opportunity to sweep to the border in a matter of days and prevent Red Premier Kim Il Sung from reorganizing remnants forces.

AP correspondent Ben Price reported that an official of the U. S. Army had been asked for a quick check of the war besides some casualties, that General MacArthur "has indicated clearly he wants American troops out of Korea as soon as possible to be ready for any new emergency in Asia."

To Avoid Disorder

"Tactical and strategic considerations, they told, override the risk of a border incident between American and Soviet troops with Chinese Communists or Russians," Erickson reported.

"United Nations troops on the border certainly will be under strict orders and discipline to avoid border troubles."

But Red resistance was offering both in front of and behind the allied spearheads. Heavy opposition was reported in the northwest and central sectors.

On the east coast, vanguards of the U. S. First Marine Division which landed at Wonsan were ambushed near Kolo 30 miles south-east of the seaport. The southern necks were part of a column sent southward to deal with 4,000 by-passed Reds.

Sex Main Ground Of Social Life, Church Declares

London, Saturday, Oct. 29 (AP)—A Church of England Council declared today sex "is the basic human fact and therefore is the main ground of all social life."

"If the church is to save the world from its own despair," the group said, "she will have to take more seriously than she has done her duty to help men and women understand and accept in its deepest sense, their sexuality, and to see it in a clue to their very nature."

The comments were made in a booklet on sex, marriage and the family published by the Church of England Moral Welfare Council.

Much of the report was devoted to the activities of the church in educational and remedial work in moral matters, it called for more extensive sex education on a moral and physical plane, rather than mere lectures on biological facts.

The report declared "half-truths and falsehoods" it said were found in the movies, advertisements, novels and magazines. It summarized them as follows:

"Sex is what you were made for, sexual experience is the thing you are free to seek elsewhere. If you miss it, you miss the thing most worth having in life, and if you do not get all that you want, marriage you are free to seek elsewhere."

The council said persons seeking help in dealing with their moral problems "represent critical situations for the church and the most searching test of her method of dealing with souls in this generation."

Works, treatment and a period of healing silence. All are welcome to the meetings and services of this church. It is open daily for prayer and meditation.

Dedication Rites Planned Sunday

The dedication of a new dossal curtain, brass cross, communion candlesticks, vases, offering plates and missal stand will take place during the regular Sunday school hour of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets, Sunday at 9:45 a. m.

These gifts were given to the Sunday school by John Walker in memory of his grandmother, Mrs. Sam Walker. Mr. Walker is one of the superintendents of the Sunday school.

The act of dedication will be performed by the Rev. Frank Lawrence Gollnick, pastor, who will preach a special sermon entitled, "A Christian Worker."

The completion of the beautiful children's altar, together with all appointments, will be one of the highlights of the Reformation Day service. The altar itself is hand-carved and was made by Charles Gruenewald.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Reformation Will Mark Closing of Preaching Mission

As the concluding meeting of the 1950 Preaching Mission, and in cooperation with a nationwide program, the Kingston churches will observe Reformation Sunday with a united service Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in the sanctuary of the St. James Methodist Church.

Sunday marks the 433rd anniversary of the nailing of the 95 theses of Martin Luther to the door of the Wittenburg Church in Germany, the physical beginning of the Protestant Reformation.

Not only a preacher, Dr. Mulder is an author and editor of high reputation. He is a graduate of Hope College in Holland, Mich., and of the Western Theological Seminary, Central College of Peru, Ia., bestowed upon him the Doctor of Divinity degree in 1931.

Book Club Revues

Hershey Best Seller

John Hershey's best seller, "The Wall," filled with the terror, irony, and pathos of modern life, proved subject matter last Tuesday for Mrs. David Kline's revue before members of the Kingston Book Club.

Mrs. Kline pointed out to the group that in "The Wall," Mr. Hershey is dealing with one of the foremost tragedies of our time: "man's inhumanity to man."

The scene, laid behind the walls of Warsaw's famous ghetto during World War 2, depicts the Nazi machine's systematic slaying of Jews, coupled with the ghetto's destruction and the Jews' heroic last battle of resistance. In addition, Mr. Hershey manages to deftly recede the ghetto world from the days when it first sprung up to its ultimate downfall.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Newman, 22 Washington avenue. The group will again convene Nov. 14 at the home of Mrs. Melvin Noy, when Mrs. Alma Evans will review Thomas Hardy's classical novel of man's inhumanity to man, "The Return of the Native."

"Hundred Thousand"

To Meet for Dinner

A new, non-political women's group, under Republican leadership, known as "The Hundred Thousand" will give a dinner Thursday evening, Nov. 2 at 6:30 in the municipal auditorium to which all are invited and urged to attend.

The group sprang from eight women who were dissatisfied with the prevalent political situation. Rather than sitting back, they decided to really do something. Today, they number 100,000 strong in New York state alone, and total 850 in Ulster county.

"The type and kind of political leader we elect is of vital importance," Alma Kitchell, well known radio commentator and chairman of the "Hundred Thousand" told the Kingston Republican Women's Club recently, "but heretofore the women of the country have been passive acceptors of conditions thrust upon them. Now, with these growing numbers, they can make themselves heard and their voices can swell into a Battle Hymn of the Republic."

National Girl Scout Week Opens Sunday; Slate Finance Drive to Open Wednesday

Tomorrow morning will dawn as Girl Scout Week for one and a half million girls in 9,000 communities; a seven-day period set aside for specific Girl Scout activities.

Initiated by "Go to Church Sunday," the week will move through homemaking day, citizenship day, health and safety day, international friendship day, arts and crafts day, and finally, out-of-doors day.

Meanwhile Scouts in Ulster county will open their annual financial drive Wednesday under the chairmanship of John Groves, with $10,000 as their goal. The drive will be carried on through "initial gift letters" which are already in the mail, and by door-to-door canvassing. Proceeds will go for maintenance, programming, and to support Camp Wendy at Wallkill.

Girl Scout Week this year reflects the general tenor of the entire organization, which provides 11 programs for its members, aged 10 to 13, and Senior Scouts, aged 14 to 17.

Ole Windstad Opens Sixth Season With Classic Program in Poughkeepsie

Ole Windstad, famous Kingston orchestra conductor, began his sixth season as the conductor of the Dutchess County Philharmonic Orchestra by conducting last week in the Poughkeepsie High School Brahms' Violin Concerto with Stephan Hero as the soloist.

Beethoven's Eighth Symphony, Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture, and Mozart's Overture to the Marriage of Figaro. Like Beethoven's Violin Concerto, which some of you heard in March with Alice Smiley as the soloist, Brahms' is difficult for the conductor, orchestra, and soloist. It is also not a show piece for the soloist, for he and the orchestra are of equal importance. As in literature the style is the man himself, so in music; this concerto reveals Brahms' nature: his thoroughness, learning, austere yet tender emotions, and virility. These qualities Windstad brought out with confidence, conducting from memory—a feat! He had "the heart to conceive, the understanding to direct, and the hand to execute."

For the soloist, this is not the most difficult concerto in the repertoire; that is Joachim's Violin Concerto. But only a soloist of the highest skill would attempt to play Brahms' Violin Concerto in public, and only an artist of the first rank could play it so well as Stephan Hero. He had a nonchalant stage presence, as nonchalant as if he were playing for himself at home. He played with the objectivity, power, dignity, and fire that are a prerequisite of this concerto of classical structure and romantic feeling. He expressed the noble fantasia of the first movement, the tender melancholy of the second, and the vigorous rhythms of the last. He, the orchestra, and the conductor, forming a perfect team, gave a superb performance which the audience heartily applauded.

Beethoven's Eighth Symphony, the other great work on the program, and Brahms' Violin Concerto have one thing in common: they contain life of great wealth and intensity, they are always surprising, and so interest in them is inexhaustible. Like nearly all true classics, they only slowly gained popularity, but when once they gained it they kept it.

Beethoven's Eighth Symphony reminds us that Beethoven was not always sombre or rebellious, but also merry, enjoying his own and practical jokes. Windstad's conducting of it was subtle and gay, easy and mettlesome.

Windstad proved his versatility by his conducting of Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture. This garish show piece, which could soon be if you heard it often, he could have spoiled by emphasizing its vulgar effects, by keeping these within bounds and yet by giving them fervor, he brought out all the beauty, especially the rousing climax. He conducted Mozart's Figaro Overture with polished grace and serenity. The enthusiastic audience applauded each number at length.—H. S. Lesko.

Picture Display

Representing the American way of life as seen through the eyes of high school students, 62 pictures will be exhibited at Kingston High School beginning Monday, Oct. 30. The exhibit will remain through Nov. 4.

The display of photographs is composed of a selection of prize winning photos from the fourth annual 1949 National High School Photographic Awards sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company. Included in the exhibit are first, second and third prize winners from the four contest classes, plus a selection of the remaining 335 prize winning prints.

The diversity of subject matter testifies to the wide range of interests among teenagers in photography as an art and in visual interpretation of America. Street scenes, public buildings, farm life, children's pets, flower studies, and pictorial scenes hang side by side with tense action shots of school activities taken at football, basketball games and track meets. There also are many pictures taken in the classroom, laboratory and various other phases of school life.

Photographs were submitted by high school students throughout the United States in grades ninth to 12th inclusive. The picture, which in the judges' opinion topped all other entries, is a pictorial study of a placid horse grazing placidly by an old country barn. Titled "On the Farm," it was entered by Richard Crammy, 15-year-old high school freshman of the Oratory School, Summit, N. J. The picture won the $100 first prize in the Pictorial Beauty class and also received the Grand Prize of $300.

While prints entered in the national contest were no larger than 5 by 7 inches, the maximum size permitted, the display prints sent for exhibition by the Kodak Company are enlargements displayed on 12 by 15 inch mounts.

Judges in this contest, which $3,500 was awarded in prize, were Clifford L. Strickland, director of the Rochester Institute of Technology; Joseph Costa, chairman of the board, National Press Photographers' Association and Kenneth Williams, manager, Photographic Illustrations Division, Eastman Kodak Co.

THE PROSPECT

A Four-Bedroom Cape Cod

Rooms seven
Bedrooms four Bathrooms two
Closets eleven
Cubage 18,300 feet
Dimensions 32 x 26 feet

We must have a house with several bedrooms and with plenty of closet space.

To meet this demand, now coming from many prospective builders, the Home of the Week Plan Service has designed "The Prospect," a Cape Cod variation which contains four good-sized bedrooms, 11 closets, and four tiers of built-in cupboard drawers for added storage space in the upstairs room.

For a family looking for an all-around plan, this cottage would be left unfinished, and a later date if needed, alterations call for piece-meal construction.

Wing Gives Extra Floor Space

The house, with a wing at the right to give extra floor space to one of the first floor bedrooms, measures 32x26 feet. A lot with a 56-foot frontage would be adequate. The cubic content of the dwelling is 18,300 feet.

The house pictured was finished with painted clapboards and a black asphalt shingle roof, but the outside walls could be finished with shingles, painted or stained; or with brick or stone.

No garage plan is included, but a garage and breezeway could be added on the left of the house if the size of the lot permits.

The small gable treatment over the front door, breaking the long cornice line; and the large living room window, centered under the upper left dormer window, give a pleasing distinction to the front.

The picture window, and a fireplace centered in the other outside wall, are features of the living room. Corresponding with the archway to the front hall another arch in the long inside wall of the living room looks into the 10x12½-foot dining room. Here built-in china cabinets flank a window at the rear.

A two-way swinging door connects dining room and kitchen. This latter is a 10x8½-foot room, well planned with the refrigerator tucked in between two closets; the range placed at the end of an L-shaped working counter. A door with glazed top panel opens from the kitchen to a service entry, on the side of the house.

Hall Leads to Two Bedrooms

Across the dining room from the kitchen door is another door to a small L-shaped rear hall leading to the two bedrooms. A storage closet, a coat closet and a bathroom open off this hall. The central stairway descends from the dining room, closed off behind a door.

Each of the first floor bedrooms has a large closet and windows on two sides.

In the full basement, the furnace is under the living room, and laundry equipment under the kitchen. This arrangement leaves the rest of the cellar free for any use the owners may wish to make of it.

On the second floor the stairs lead in a short hall. Bedroom doors are at right and left of this hall, and a lavette is between the bedrooms. Each bedroom measures 13x12 feet; has windows on three sides, and built-in drawers tucked into the front eaves. The room at the left has two large closets; the one on the right, one. This house should be fully insulated, with ventilating louvers in the gable ends. A site facing from northeast to southwest is recommended.

Complete plans and specifications for "The Prospect" and other houses in this series are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman, Kingston, N. Y., and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a three-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

Treatment Suggested For Window Problem

If you have short and long windows in your room badly placed and badly proportioned, you might try this suggestion.

Cover the short window with a sheer curtain only and use the color of the wall. Then treat the long window wall and not just the window. Cover the glass expanse with the same color sheer curtains, and then hang on the wall framing this expanse a pair of full, dramatically colored and patterned draperies. If the ceilings are low, hang both curtain and drapery from the top of the wall.

Need Space in Living Room

Due to the fact that the living room is the meeting place of the family group and bears the major portion of the "traffic" in a home, it should be the largest room in a dwelling.

The size and needs of the family and the contemplated use of a living room will govern its size. With 12 feet as the minimum satisfactory width. The size, however, should be enlarged to accommodate additional furniture if a living room is intended for more than one use.

For example, should have added space for table and chairs, so placed that this additional furniture will not reduce the effective space of the living area.

Openings, doors and windows, should receive careful study in a living room in order that sufficiently long and unbroken wall spaces may realize the largest pieces of furniture normally used.

The living room, except in special cases, should be entered through a small foyer. Outer garments may be removed in the foyer, which also acts as a buffer against direct intrusion into the living space. When this is not possible the entrance to the room should be at the end of the room opposite the windows. A condition to be avoided is that in which passage diagonally through the living room to reach the other rooms is necessary.

Electric Towel Drier Handy Home Gadget

Many a housewife has been disconcerted by the sudden realization that there were stacks and stacks of dishes waiting to be dried—and not a clean dish in the house. The laundry hadn't come back and the few towels on hand were still wet from the noon dishes.

A towel drier, enclosed in the compartment under the sink, is good insurance against such a predicament. The drier, an electric heater with a fan to keep the air in circulation, can be installed by the man of the house. The compartment, of course, should be well ventilated. With such an arrangement towels can be dried in a jiffy.

When Fresh Paint Is Spotted by Storms

When rain strikes freshly applied paint it may penetrate and change the refractive index of the coating in such a way as to cause very unsightly spotted effects, comments the Scientific Section of the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. Rubbing the spotted surface with alcohol will extract much of this moisture, and restore the paint film to its original color. Where this is not possible, merely allowing the paint to weather for a period of a month—and not a clean dish in the house. The laundry hadn't come back and the few towels on hand were still wet from the noon dishes.

Apply Coat of Sizing

Application of a coat of sizing to a plastered wall surface before painting is a wise procedure. A good preparation for sizing may be purchased at any paint store or may be made up of varnish thinned with turpentine, and colored with a little of the wall paint.

Demand Exceeds Supply

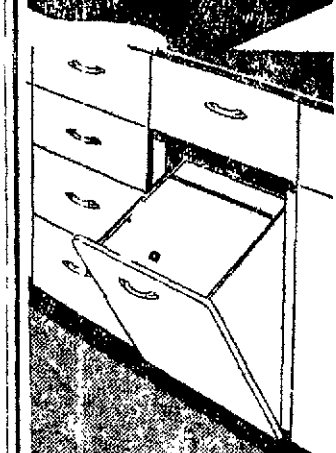

Washington, (AP)—U. S. property still produces a strong demand for beef. But the supply has not kept up with the demand, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Main cause, the department says, is the fact that it takes a long time to build up a breeding herd to produce more beef. Many growers are now building up their herds. To do it they must hold back calves that might be sold for beef to add to those herds. Thus, their attempts to get more beef actually reduce the supply. The department thinks it will be many months before supplies in the United States are adequate.

Temperature Control

Regulators by which heating systems can be adjusted manually insure even distribution of heat regardless of the shape of the room or the location of the register, says Practical Builder, Chicago. Controls are placed at the register for easy convenience in handling.

The nuthatch builds its nest in the decayed trunks of trees, so that its young may eat the insects that flourish in this habitat.

Ancient Spike

Halifax, (AP)—An eight-inch hand-made spike more than 200 years old was removed from one of the beams under the flooring of St. Paul's Church and will probably go to the Nova Scotia museum. 'Rings the Bell'
Traffic regulations on busy Main street in Bridgeport, Conn., now call for "ringing the bell" on pedestrians with jaywalking tendencies. Every time the traffic lights switch from red to green, a sharp, shrill bell sounds out over an area of at least a couple of blocks. Dreamy street crossers are snapped to attention by the racket promptly enough to prevent their walking against the light. This cuts down on the jaywalking. It also gives jittery nerves to store clerks in the area.

Farm Business Good But Profits Short

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicted today that gross income of farmers will set a new record next year, but that their net income will set a new record next year, but that their net income will fall short of the 1947 peak.

The department's Bureau of Agricultural Economics said 1951 gross income is likely to be up at least 10 per cent from the estimated $31,800,000,000 this year. A flat 10 per cent increase would bring the 1951 gross to about $35,000,000,000, just short of the 1948 record. But the bureau's summary stressed an increase of "at least" 10 per cent, and said outright that a new record high is expected. Another yardstick for measuring farm prosperity—net income—was not quite so favorable. An income increase of 15 per cent or more over 1950 was forecast, but the bureau said it still is likely to fall short of both 1947 and 1948. This year's net income was estimated at $13,300,000,000, six per cent below 1949 and 25 per cent below the high of 1947. Gross income includes what the farmer gets for what he sells, plus such items as the value of home-consumed farm products, and estimated rental value of farm buildings. Net income, what's left after the payment of production costs.

Willie The Skunk Takes Over Television Show

Chicago, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Lincoln Park Zoo's pet skunk, "Sweet William," may be homeless, but you couldn't convince the Kukla, Fran and Ollie TV show staff or its audience of that last night. Brought in from the zoo to visit the puppet show, Willie was lifted to the stage. The show's staff, some 12 persons, reacted instinctively, dispersing hurriedly while Willie took possession of the stage with a national audience viewing the picture. The skunk's keeper, who knew the animal was harmless because he was domesticated, embarrassedly picked up his charge and left. In full view of the TV audience, the mess was mopped up and six minutes later the puppeteers returned to work.

Dewey Leadership

hardly also spoke about juvenile delinquency and survey of child housing, mental, medical, care, sickness, disability, mental hygiene and taxes. The Civil Defense Program set up for New York state is far in advance of any other state due to the foresight of Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the speaker said. The state financial scene for the Republican administration under Governor Dewey shows a record for productive management of state finances in the last seven years and shows that we can support a greatly increased volume of state and local activities for the welfare of the people of New York state, without resort to big spending programs, a top-heavy political bureaucracy or treasury red ink, she concluded.

789 John Movement
Mrs. John P. Shussler, county director of "The Hundred Thousand," reported the membership to date was 789. Anyone wishing a membership may contact one of the group leaders or the county director. A dinner is being planned for the group leaders and workers at the Municipal Building on November 2, at 6:30 p. m.

Frederick Stang, county attorney, also addressed the meeting. Mr. Stang told of the Republican campaign which is touring Ulster county and said how important it is to bring the candidates to the people of smaller villages and hamlets. He presented Edward E. Murray, county commissioner of public welfare and Mr. Murray spoke of abandoned children and orphans who have been care of and educated through his department. Mr. Murray also spoke of the adult program where elderly people without relatives or friends are cared for.

Plans for Hospital
Murray told the group that it was hoped that in the near future the former City Home in Kingston would be remodeled and converted into a hospital for the chronically ill. Cluett Schantz, chairman of the board of supervisors and Republican candidate for sheriff, greeted the women and thanked the club membership for its support.

All Urged To Vote
John B. Sterley, surrogate, also addressed the group and made an appeal for every voter to turn out and cast his or her vote on election day.

Assemblyman John F. Wadlin of Highland explained Disability Insurance and praised Governor Dewey's administration for its accomplishments. Judge J. Ernest Wharton of Schoharie county, candidate for member of Congress, presided the leadership in Ulster county and thanked the ladies group for its hospitality. Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Ulster County Republican Committee chairman, greeted the club members, praised Governor Dewey and Lt. Governor Joe E. Hanley for their years of service to the people of the state of New York and to the Republican party. Senator Wicks, as had the other candidates, urged every member of the county organization to do her utmost in getting out the vote and to see that every registered voter gets out and votes on November 7.

Merger Plans Are Given by Bishop

Kansas City, Oct. 28 (AP)—A plan for merging seven major Protestant denominations into one church was announced here by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of St. Louis, leader of Missouri Methodists.

Bishop Holt, chairman of the Commission on Protestant Union, said last night the plan was developed at a commission meeting last week in New York. Details of the proposal will not be made public until the plan is presented to Protestant leaders January 23-24 in Cincinnati, he said. The new organization would be known as the United Church of Christ. The Protestant Union Commission is composed of representatives of these churches: Presbyterian, U.S.A.; Episcopal, U.S.; Disciples of Christ, Congregational-Christian, Evangelical Reformed, Federation of Community Churches, and the Methodist.

ton said one marine company was cut to pieces. The unambiguous force was estimated at 1,000 Reds. Marine fighter planes set the town of Koko afame. Tank and reinforcements were rushed to the area. About 150 miles to the north, the South Korean Capital Division drove into the seaport of Songjin, 75 miles southeast of the Manchurian border. It reported the city partially occupied. To reach the center of the mountainous peninsula, a regiment of the ROK Sixth Division was cut off from supplies.

Drop Supplies
Six C-119 flying boxcars dropped 48,000 pounds of supplies at the town of Koko Saturday. Other elements of the Sixth Division were trapped at Onjong, 35 miles south of Koko. The ground force closed down on three battalions Two broke out. The third scattered his men in attempts to rejoin in the division singly and in small groups. But large stores of South Korean equipment was reported abandoned. On the west coast, American and British troops expanded their bridgehead across the Chongchon river and fanned northward against spotty-to-heavy opposition.

The U. S. 24th Division's Fifth Regiment ran into considerable resistance on its drive due north from Kusan. The British Commonwealth 27th Brigade, driving from Kusan on the Fifth Regiment's left flank, moved five miles west toward Chongju. Resistance in that area was reported as light. Maj. Gen. Earle K. Partridge, Fifth Air Force commander, said fighter-bombers had a field day in supporting the Fifth Regiment's advance on Taechon from Kusan.

Charge Retired Chief Of Sending False Alarm

Red Bank, N. J., Oct. 28 (AP)—That old fire-horse feeling stirred in the breast of 55-year-old Howard A. Mallen, Sr.

He had come back to Monmouth county Thursday from his new home at Hawthorne, N. Y., and talked of the days 14 years ago when he was fire chief of nearby Middletown township. Then—the way the present fire chief, J. Harry Bennett, tells it—Someone called from Red Bank and asked Middletown township to rush in its fire-fighting equipment. Red Bank, the caller said, was on fire. Three trucks clanged quickly into town but found no fire. But Bennett traced the alarm to a Red Bank tavern where police said they found Mallen celebrating old times. The former chief was charged with turning in a false alarm and ordered held for the Monmouth county grand jury.

and the board "never had a party vote since I've been on the board. (Herzog has been a board member about nine years.)

Board Free of Politics
Joseph J. Morgan: "I'd prefer not to do it. I have never sought public office. Under the election system, our politics would creep in eventually. But the present appointive system, as it works here in Kingston is 'absolutely free of politics as far as the workings of the board are concerned.'"

Jensen Fowler: "I might or might not run, but I wouldn't probably wouldn't run unless some organization, like a Parent-Teachers group, got behind me. . . (and) if I felt it were in the interest of the school system." About the present operation of the board, Fowler said, "I think the operation of the board is above politics."

William F. Leehive: "I don't believe I would. The company I work for doesn't look with favor on their employees getting involved in a political campaign. I have been on the board seven years or better, and frankly I haven't seen politics as politics is usually called."

Chester A. Baltz: "I feel I would rather be appointed, and I feel—I may be wrong—that under the appointive system, a qualified man would accept an appointment who would not enter a election." Richard Kalish: "No, I wouldn't like to see it ever get into politics. Over a period of years (the board) has done an excellent job and has acted in the interest of the students. Right now you have two parties represented and you have people not even interested in politics."

Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, Jr.: "I would like to reserve that opinion for a little while."

Two members who could not be contacted were Clarence S. Rowland, who was out of the city for the week-end, and Harold Darling, who was in the city but could not be located.

Two of the members contacted brought out another question which enters into the formulation of a considered opinion on the proposition. Under the new state law, the board is given much broader powers in the financing of the school system and setting of school taxes. Joseph Morgan said he believed that the board "should be compelled to give a strict accounting to the people, whether it is appointed or not, because that is a very real responsibility."

No Party Pressure
Fowler said, "I think the feeling is that an appointive board gets a little better calibre men. On the other hand, the education board gets a terrible amount of power and the appointive system could be abused. As far as I know, locally, both Democrats and Republicans have kept their hands off the workings of the board."

Baltz said the appointive system should work better than an elective one "unless we get a very bad type of mayor, and we've never had a bad one as long as I've been here."

the struggle may only have begun," he said. And then, at another point in his speech:

Far From Enough
"What has been done so far, good as it may be, is far from enough. The potential collective force of the United Nations was not enough to deter the aggressors in Korea. The collective forces of the North Atlantic states may not be enough to deter aggression in our North Atlantic area and definitely is not enough to resist attack without serious and critical initial losses. That gain in military strength we must now close as quickly as possible. Out of this meeting should come definite recommendations that not only will make us stronger to meet the present threats but to do so more quickly than past procedure would indicate."

The hotbed question of German units in the integrated European force except as small elements in a supra-national army is not expected to delay early formation of the defense system. It is a question involved in political feasibility and there is no one to be settled at military levels, although it is concerned in the military planning.

Phone Strike Is

every state with the exception of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Last night's announcement came after 13 months of stormy and fruitless bargaining that earlier led Division 6 into an inconclusive eight-day strike last spring. The union has demanded a "substantial" increase without naming a figure, and has turned down every offer made so far by the company.

Blast Liquor Store

Chicago, Oct. 28 (AP)—A small bomb, described by police as "artificially an amateur job," last night blew open two doors of the Gold Seal Liquors, Inc., owned by former Capone henchman, Joe Fusco. Deputy Chief of Detectives John T. O'Malley said the bomb apparently was made of dynamite. Damages totaled $250, he said. Fusco, 48, recently testified before Senator Kefauver's crime investigating committee that he emerged from the prohibition era with $30,000 with which he organized the liquor distribut-

Can't Assure Projects Won't Be Interrupted

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP)—The National Production Authority has told building contractors it cannot assure them that non-defense projects, once started, will not be interrupted in mid-construction because of the defense effort.

William H. Harrison, NPA administrator, made this reply to a contractors' association which had accused the NPA of placing all future, non-defense construction in "serious jeopardy."

An NPA order Thursday banned construction of new amusement places except those already started. The order also said that other types of non-defense construction may be banned in the future, and if so, the bans may apply to projects already underway.

J. E. Foreman, managing director of the Associated General Contractors of America, telegraphed Harrison that this provision is "far more drastic in effect than anything applied during World War II." He asked for immediate advice on how builders can get positive rulings that would assure continuation of projects once begun.

Foreman wrote Harrison that "it will be our intent to avoid interruption of projects already underway," but "on the other hand, we cannot now give assurances that circumstances in the future will permit adherence to this policy."

Nudes for Art's Sake

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 28 (AP)—"They're going to allow nudes in Harvard now—but it's for art's sake, Dean William Herder said permission has been granted the Harvard Art Association to use live female models—possibly even nude ones. The association, which will have space on the top floor of Sever Hall, immediately closed its membership at 22.
